FROM BEHIND THE COUCH

DECEMBER 24 1985
When did you first notice you were feeling hot?
You know I shouldn't be sitting next to you like this
I think you are getting better every year
What gave you this infantile notion?
So you think I fell asleep?
I think you just imagine they are whistling at you
What makes you think I am in love with you?
You think you are ready now to change your position toward your husband?
I understand you better now, it is chilly here.
Are you challenging Professor Freud?
I never did say I thought you were a virgin
So Dr. Freud does not look Jewish to you
Perhaps they think you are not willing enough
There is nothing wrong with you, it is all physical
When did you first decide to enter the Miss America contest?
So you think he looks like your father
Perhaps you are right-- I should see a psychiatrist
You think you are ready now to change your position toward your husband?
